

Volcanoes

A _____ is an opening in the Earth's _____ which allows molten rock, _____ and _____ to escape from below the Earth's surface.

There are about 1500 volcanoes in the _____. Many of them are found in an area called 'The _____ of Fire'.

Far below the Earth's _____ is a magma _____ which is filled with molten _____ called magma. The magma travels up a conduit and into the _____ of the volcano before escaping through a vent in the Earth's surface.

The vent is surrounded by a large _____.

Volcanoes are dangerous because they produce burning _____ and _____ of deadly choking gas. They can also trigger _____ and _____.

There are three stages in a volcano's existence.

An active volcano could erupt at any time.

A dormant volcano has not erupted for a long time.

An extinct volcano will probably not erupt again.

crater, ash, Ring, reservoir, gas, surface, volcano, clouds, lava, world, throat, tsunamis, crust, rock, mudslides